Your enrolment in a course of study contains units of competency that describe:

If the course you have enrolled in is scheduled to be superseded we will discuss the implications with you and ways we can facilitate your transition to the new qualification.

11.3 Assessment gaining competence

You will be given assessment tasks reflecting actual workplace requirements that enable the Assessor to gather sufficient evidence to determine your level of competence. The Training Plan provides information about the assessments.

At the commencement of each unit, the Trainer and Assessor will provide information about tasks before you attempt them (e.g. what to expect, evidence the assessor will be looking for).

Assistance will be provided however you are expected to:

- attend/participate in the required training sessions and contribute positively to the learning process
- study any reading material provided to gain the required knowledge
- practise newly learnt skills
- complete the required assessment tasks

Assessment methods vary from course to course. Assessment methods may include but are not limited to:

- questioning
- workplace projects
- observation
- practical demonstration
- case studies
- role plays

There are two outcomes possible for your submitted assessment:

- Competent (C) - all aspects of skills, knowledge and performance for the course level are met
- Not yet competent (NYC) - some aspects did not meet the required standard and require further coaching or practise opportunities to assist you to meet the required standard.

When you have submitted your assessment, the Assessor will provide feedback within 21 days. By satisfactorily demonstrating all aspects of the assessments in the units, you will meet the requirements of competence and be eligible to receive the qualification.

Assessment submission

If your assessment is considered Not Yet Competent (NYC) you will be advised of the reasons and be given the opportunity to resubmit. If after the second submission of the same task, it is still not yet competent, the trainer will contact you to discuss.

If a third submission of the same task is still considered Not Yet Competent, study in the unit will be postponed and other options put forward such as moving to another unit of study or revisiting the initial unit during work placement, if this is a course/unit requirement.

11.4 Monitoring your progress
